Universitas Indonesia Library >> Artikel Jurnal

Comparison of field and model percentage drift using different types of hydraulic nozzles in pesticide applications

In pesticide applications, small droplets are desired for better coverage and uniform distribution. Yet small droplets have a problem : Drift, the movement of droplets off-target....