

Reflecting on recent PAR: ensuring the world's poorest women have access to social justice relies on bypassing the gatekeepers who silence women

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=128565&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

This article presents research conducted that seeks to explore the work undertaken by the NGO and explore the policies and processes of the major stakeholders involved in the process of releasing and rehabilitating these women and children. The research evaluates the social, legal, economical, historical and political frameworks that exist around the trokosi women, in order to gain an understanding of how these frameworks can be adjusted to better represent the right of the women