Abstrak

Much has happened in the new order era of the Indonesia rural development, including the achievement of a high level of rural economic growth and the development of physical infrastructure. At the same time, Indonesia still faces enormous rural development problems especially it has been far from equitably distributed opportunity among the people to participate in the rural development process itself. When we made some comparison with South Korea, in rural development with Saemaul Undong movement, there are two problems in Indonesia rural development which it related with the loss of the rural development momentum and lack of rural individual and community development....
