

Quality of care in family planning services: Indonesian family life survey 1993

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20299626&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

This article presents findings of survey on Quality of Care in Family Planning co//colon' as a port of the indonesia Family LUE2 Study in i993 (IFLS I 993). The results support perceptions reflected in tire literature that indicators and measures of quality of care in family planning are not simple and difficult to obtain. Information collected from this survey fail to explain the quality of care expected. However, some information such as communication between client and provider is found to be significantly related to the duration of contraceptive use.