

Persaingan Amerika Serikat dan China di Asia Tengah: perspektif keamanan energi (1997-2007) = Rivalry of United states and China in Central Asia : energy security perspective (1997-2007)

Meita Fitriani, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20299763&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

ABSTRAK

Tesis ini membahas bentuk persaingan Amerika Serikat (AS) dan China dalam memperoleh akses energi di Asia Tengah. Penelitian ini merupakan penelitian kuantitatif dengan menggunakan metode studi kepustakaan. Hasil penelitian ini menyimpulkan bahwa AS dan China menganggap Asia Tengah sebagai kawasan dengan nilai geostrategis dan geo-ekonomi yang menguntungkan di masa depan. Terdapat perbedaan strategi dan diplomasi antara AS dan China dalam menjalin hubungan dengan Asia Tengah. Hasil temuan dari penelitian ini juga menjelaskan persaingan energi yang masih akan terus berlangsung dengan membawa kepentingankepentingan diluar bidang energi untuk saling melemahkan pihak lawan sesuai dengan kebijakan nasional.

<hr>

Abstract

The focus of this study is about the form of rivalry between United States (US) and China in acquiring energy access in Central Asia. This research use a quantitative study with method of literary study. The purpose of this research is to understand why US and China made a foreign policy towards Central Asia. This study summarize that US and China consider Central Asia as a region with geo-strategic and geo-economic value that will bring benefits in the future. There are differences of strategy and diplomacy between US and China in establish a relationship with Central Asia. The findings of this study also describes about energy competition will be continued as long as US and China have national interest in Central Asia. US and China have a hidden agenda to block each other in order to control Central Asia and inhibits the opposing side

<hr>

Abstract

The focus of this study is about the form of rivalry between United States (US) and China in acquiring energy access in Central Asia. This research use a quantitative study with method of literary study. The purpose of this research is to understand why US and China made a foreign policy towards Central Asia. This study summarize that US and China consider Central Asia as a region with geo-strategic and geo-economic value that will bring benefits in the future. There are differences of strategy and diplomacy between US and China in establish a relationship with Central Asia. The findings of this study also describes about energy competition will be continued as long as US and China have national interest in Central Asia. US and China have a hidden agenda to block each other in order to control Central Asia and inhibits the opposing side