ABSTRAK

Tesis ini membahas mengenai integrasi sosial antar etnik Cina dan Jawa pada komunitas pecinan di Kelurahan Kranggan kota Semarang. Metode penelitian yang digunakan dalam penelitian ini adalah metode deskriptif kualitatif dengan menggunakan data primer yang dikumpulkan melalui metode wawancara dan observasi serta data sekunder yang menunjang hasil penelitian. Hasil penelitian menunjukkan bahwa etnis Cina dan Jawa terasimilasi secara bahasa, kultur, adat-istiadat, sikap, agama dan perkawinan. Selain itu, hubungan antar etnis Cina dan Jawa tidak hanya tersegmentasi pada bidang perekonomian melainkan kerjasama di bidang kebudayaan, kesenian, pendidikan dan kegiatan sosial yang menyangkut kesejahteraan sosial antar etnis di Pecinan. Jadi integrasi sosial antar etnik dan modal sosial pada komunitas Pecinan terbilang tinggi.

ABSTRACT

This thesis studied about social integration between the Chinese and Javanese in Pecinan community at Kranggan sub-district, Semarang city. The research methodology was qualitative and descriptive. The primary data was collected through interview and observation and supported by secondary data. The result shows that both of the Chinese and Javanese have been assimilated through language, culture, tradition, behavior, religion and marriage. Moreover, the relations between them are not segmented in economic activities only, but also in their partnership in culture, art, education, and social aspects related to their social welfare. The social integration and social capital in their community are strong.
