

Coal: Japan's policy and its relation to Indonesian needs

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20407189&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

Japan and Indonesia should work closely to achieve their needs. Japan imports coal particularly steam coal and exports its technology, CCT. Indonesia exports its coal as well as develops domestic coal utilization. This mutually benefit cooperation program has actually been starting since the 1980s that involves exploration, utilization technology and environment. It is worthwhile to take an advantage of Japan's coal policy by enhancing further mutually benefit cooperation between the two countries.