

Nilai strategis Kawasan Anyer pada abad XIX – XX=The Strategic value of Anyer Area in XIX - XX Century

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20408634&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

Anyer is a small port town at the west of Java Island. In the period of Netherland Indie government under governor general H.W. Deandels, the Anyer region received a special attention. The strategic value of this region is shows by some archaeological remains. Based on the research by the description of the remains, there are some buildings that can be grouped into the building that is related to infra- structure of transportation, a semi-sacred building, and a sacred building. Through the archaeological study of the building and the research of the historical explanation, it is discovered that the Anyer region has a strategic value including sailing and trading as well as defense sector.