Abstrak

[Penelitian ini bertujuan menganalisis interaksi antar aktor dalam pembangunan ekowisata di Indonesia sebagai bagian dari Agenda Pembangunan Global. Pembangunan ekowisata di Indonesia menjadi signifikan untuk mendorong pembangunan ekonomi, sosial, dan lingkungan yang sejalan dengan nilai-nilai pembangunan berkelanjutan. Namun demikian, masing-masing aktor memiliki kepentingan dan mempengaruhi proses pembangunan ekowisata yang belum sepenuhnya berjalan efektif. Berdasarkan analisis Teori Environment and Development dan Complex Interdependence, penelitian ini menemukan bahwa interaksi antar aktor bersifat kompleks, dan cukup rentan terjadinya konflik. Terdapat tiga pola interaksi yang terbentuk, yaitu kooperatif, dependen, dan bersifat konflik; This research aims to analyze interaction between actors in Indonesian ecotourism development as part of global development agenda. Ecotourism development in Indonesia becomes significant to improve economy, social, and environment development related to sustainable development. However, each actor has their own interest which influences ecotourism development process that has not effectively applied. Based on Environment & Development Theory and Complex Interdependence Theory, this research finds that interaction between actors is complex because each actor has their own interests and susceptible of conflict. Interaction between actors is divided into cooperation, dependence, and conflict, This research aims to analyze interaction between actors in Indonesian ecotourism development as part of global development agenda.
