

Analisis kelompok di dalam bekerja dengan kelompok = Group analysis in working with group

Talita Wardhana Bachtiar, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20416502&lokasi=lokal>

---

Abstrak

[ABSTRAK Sebagian besar grup terbentuk karena adanya kesamaan latar belakang, sejarah, kepercayaan, ketertarikan, atau tujuan. Meskipun memiliki latar belakang yang sama, setiap anggota tetap memiliki perbedaan dalam hal kepribadian dan peran. Perbedaan ini membuat grup menjadi menarik karena semua anggota harus beradaptasi dan menyesuaikan diri sesuai dengan suasana grup yang terbentuk. Dalam tesis ini akan dijelaskan tentang sponsorship team saya dalam acara bernama ?Kompetisi Ekonomi? yang akan mengaplikasikan teori pada praktek yang terjadi berdasarkan pengalaman. Analisis ini akan menjelaskan dari proses terbentuknya grup, sifat-sifat dalam grup, teknik, peran, konflik yang terjadi dalam grup, dan bagaimana cara menyelesaikannya.ABSTRACT Most of groups are established because of having the same background which could be the same history, same belief, the same interest, or the same goals. Although having the same background, each member has different personalities and preferred roles to be in a group. This differences make the group interesting when all the members have to adjust their behavior based on the group environment. Through this essay, I will discuss about my sponsorship team on event called ?Indonesian Economic Competition? where I will relate the theories into real practices that happen on my team. The analysis will explore things from the process of the group development, group behavior, roles, conflicts that happen during the period, and how did I overcome the problems.:Most of groups are established because of having the same background which could be the same history, same belief, the same interest, or the same goals. Although having the same background, each member has different personalities and preferred roles to be in a group. This differences make the group interesting when all the members have to adjust their behavior based on the group environment. Through this essay, I will discuss about my sponsorship team on event called ?Indonesian Economic Competition? where I will relate the theories into real practices that happen on my team. The analysis will explore things from the process of the group development, group behavior, roles, conflicts that happen during the period, and how did I overcome the problems.:Most of groups are established because of having the same background which could be the same history, same belief, the same interest, or the same goals. Although having the same background, each member has different personalities and preferred roles to be in a group. This differences make the group interesting when all the members have to adjust their behavior based on the group environment. Through this essay, I will discuss about my sponsorship team on event called 'Indonesian Economic Competition' where I will relate the theories into real practices that happen on my team. The analysis will explore things from the process of the group development, group behavior, roles, conflicts that happen during the period, and how did I overcome the problems., Most of groups are established because of having the same background which could be the same history, same belief, the same interest, or the same goals. Although having the same background, each member has different personalities and preferred roles to be in a group. This differences make the group interesting when all the members have to adjust their behavior based on the group environment. Through this essay, I will discuss about my sponsorship team on event called 'Indonesian Economic Competition' where I will relate the theories into real practices that happen on my team. The analysis will explore things from the process of the group development, group behavior, roles, conflicts that happen during the period, and how did I overcome the problems.]