Budaya Aceh dan ajaran Islam menekankan pentingnya peran ayah dalam kehidupan anaknya. Selain itu, Aceh juga provinsi dimana ajaran agama menjadi dasar hukum dan terintegrasi dalam kehidupan masyarakatnya. Penelitian ini bertujuan untuk melihat kontribusi sanctification of parenting, yaitu sejauh mana ayah mempersepsi pengasuhannya kepada anak sebagai sesuatu yang memiliki divine character dan significance, terhadap keterlibatan ayah pada domain perilaku dan kualitas afeksi yang dipersepsi oleh anak. Keterlibatan ayah pada domain perilaku diukur menggunakan Reported Father Involvement Scale (Finley & Schwartz, 2004) dan kualitas afeksi diukur menggunakan Nurturance Fathering Scale (Finley & Schwartz, 2004). Sanctification of parenting diukur menggunakan alat ukur Sanctification of Parenting (Mahoney, Pargament, A. Murray-Swank, & N. Murray-Swank, 2003). Hasil analisis statistik regresi linear pada data dari 133 pasang ayah dan anak di Aceh menunjukkan bahwa sanctification of parenting berkontribusi signifikan pada keterlibatan ayah pada domain perilaku dan kualitas afeksi yang dipersepsi oleh anak. Analisis data demografi menunjukkan perbedaan rata-rata keterlibatan ayah pada jenis kelamin anak dan perbedaan kualitas afeksi pada tipe sekolah anak dan tingkat pendapatan total keluarga. Tidak ada perbedaan rata-rata pada sanctification of parenting antara urutan lahir anak, jenis kelamin anak, dan pendidikan pesantren ayah. Diskusi hasil penelitian, limitasi, serta saran penelitian lanjutan dijelaskan di bagian akhir.

Both the culture of Aceh and Islamic teachings stresses the important role of father to the child. This study was intended to find the extent to which Sanctification of Parenting, perception of a father to his caregiving process as having divine character and significance, can predict Father Involvement, operationalized in behavior domains involvement and affective quality perceived by the child. The variables measured using Reported Father Involvement Scale (Finley & Schwartz, 2004) and Nurturance Fathering Scale (Finley & Schwartz, 2004) measured in the child and Sanctification of Parenting (Mahoney, Pargament, A. Murray-Swank, & N. Murray-Swank, 2003) measured in the father. One hundred and thirty three pairs of father and adolescent in Aceh participated in the study. Based on linear regression analysis, Sanctification of Parenting contributes significantly to Father Involvement, both in behavior domains and affective quality perceived by the child. Analysis of demographic data shows differences in father involvement based on child gender, differences in affective quality based on school type and level of family income There is no mean differences between child birth order, child gender, and father pesantren education in sanctification of parenting score. Further discussion, limitation, and future research suggestion elaborated in the end.
