ABSTRAK

Penelitian ini membahas pengaturan serta kewenangan yang dimiliki oleh Komisi Pengawasan Persaingan Usaha di Indonesia, Belanda dengan Autoriteit Consument en Markt serta Singapura dengan Competition Commission of Singapore. Komisi Pengawasan Persaingan Usaha (KPPU) memiliki tugas untuk menegak Hukum Persaingan Usaha serta mengadili terjadinya pelanggaran larangan di dalam Hukum Persaingan Usaha. Walaupun KPPU telah melaksanakan tugasnya, namun KPPU memiliki beberapa kekurangan yang membuatnya tidak menegak hukum persaingan usaha dengan maksimal. Karena kekurangan tersebut, skripsi ini menggunakan metode yuridis normatif dengan membandingkan dua komisi serta perundang-perundangan yang terkait di luar Indonesia, yakni Belanda dan Singapura dengan melihat persamaan dan perbedaan di antara para komisi agar dapat mengaplikasikan perbedaan tersebut kepada KPPU.

This research will explain the regulations and the authority which are given to the Commission of the Supervisory of Business Competition in Indonesia, the Netherlands with Autoriteit Consument en Markt and Singapore with Competition Commission of Singapore. The Commission of the Supervisory of Business Competition has the obligation to enforce & protect the Competition Law in Indonesia and also to judge any cases which violate the Competition Law. Though Commission of the Supervisory of Business Competition has executed it's job, it currently faces disadvantages which prevent them from executing their obligations maximally. Because of those disadvantages, this research will use the judicial normative method, by comparing two foreign competition commission and the statutes which are applied in two foreign countries, the Netherlands and Singapore, to observe the advantages and the disadvantages made between those commissions that can be applied to the Commission of the Supervisory of Business Competition in Indonesia.
