

Plantation lane: time and tide

Patterson, Simon, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20440069&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

Plantation place is one of the most important new developments in city of London of recent years. It is a piece of contemporary architecture designed by Arup Associates that sits comfortably into its environment. As part of the context of this new development British land have created plantation lane, a pedestrian walkway between the two buildings of plantation place that recreates some of the permeability of the old plantation house.