Abstrak

Abstract. This research aimed to study the influence of the values of quick ratio, debt ratio, return-on-assets, inventory turnover, and assets turnover toward the net profit before tax in the food and beverage industries in Jakarta Stock Exchange in the year 2002-2006. The approach used is qualitative approach with double regression.

The result shows that the variables of quick ratio, inventory turnover, assets turnover, return-on-assets significantly influence the profit before tax. The use of financial ratio is proved to be beneficial for profit management.
