501 Must-Take Journeys will inspire you to experience some of the most incredible journeys that this earth has to offer, whether that's canoeing down the Yukon River in North America or embarking on the Nilgiri Mountain Railway in South Asia. The book is organised by country for easy reference, and the beautiful photography will transport you to many of the world's most stunning natural wonders all in the comfort of your own home. For the more intrepid adventurer, there are handy notes for each location on what mode of transport you use, the optimum time to go, how long the journey takes and any highlights or other information that may be of use.
