This script discusses the case study of the appeal decision of the disputes that occurred to the Taxpayer in the application of DGT Form in terms of the principle of ease of administration. This research uses descriptive quantitative approach. Quantitative data was obtained through litrature studies and in depth interviews. The results of this study the researchers concluded that the policy of Regulation of Anti Tax Treaty Abuse as regulated in PER 61 PJ 2009 has not fully fulfilled the principle of ease of administration. Ease of administration indicator that has been fulfilled is only limited to the Determination of Subject and Object, meanwhile Determination Mechanism Procedures have not fulfilled in the Indicator of Certainty. In addition to other indicators such as Efficiency and Simplicity, PER 61 PJ 2009 has not met the principle of ease of administration
