Journal of optimization theory and application

Abstrak

ABSTRAK
Minimum-time and smooth-steering control algorithms are developed from bobsled optimal control. Numerical solutions are obtained both for one-curve optimal control and whole-course piecewise optimal control with application to realistic three-dimensional track surface shapes. Specific results are calculated for the Lillehammer Olympic Track.