.....This study aims to analyze the presence of herding behavior on the Indonesian stock market after the closing of the broker summary during market hours. The researcher focuses on revealing whether there are any indications of herding behavior after the closing of the broker summary during stock exchange hours since December 6th 2021. The researcher conducted research on companies included in the PEFINDO25 index for the period 2021 - 2023 which consists of 53 companies for the entire period. The results showed that there was no indication of herding behavior after closing the broker summary during trading hours. These results can be used as a consideration for the policy of closing broker summaries which has effectively reduced herding behavior on the Indonesian stock market. That way, it is hoped that in the future investors and BEI can jointly advance the Indonesian stock market, especially in reducing herding behavior in Indonesia.
