Abstrak

Tesis ini membahas tentang analisis intelijen terhadap gerakan organisasi buruh dalam penolakan undang-undang Omnibus Law yang disusun Pemerintah demi menggenjot pertumbuhan ekonomi dan masuk dalam Prolegnas Prioritas 2020. Beberapa gerakan organisasi buruh berujung anarkis dan berdampak pada kerugian akibat rusaknya fasilitas publik. Gerakan organisasi buruh dalam penolakan Omnibus Law ini seharusnya bisa dideteksi sedini mungkin sehingga dapat ditangani secara strategis oleh kepolisian maupun pemerintah untuk meminimalkan dampak yang lebih luas. Analisis intelijen strategis adalah alat yang esensial dalam pengembangan penegakkan hukum secara modern baik untuk kebijakan, perencanaan ataupun program- programnya, hal ini disebabkan karena peranan penting dari intelijen strategis adalah mendukung pencapaian tujuan secara strategis dan praktis. Analisis intelijen strategis digunakan dalam penelitian ini untuk memperoleh berbagai hasil analisa yang berguna bagi para pemangku kepentingan untuk memahami karakteristik dari organisasi buruh, sehingga segala upaya pencegahan dan penanggulangannya mampu menyentuh ke akar permasalahan. Dari penelitian ini didapat penejelasan mengenai karakteristik organisasi buruh, pola aksi penolakan dan rumusan bentuk penanganan penolakan Omnibus Law di kalangan Organisasi Buruh di wilayah Jabodetabek.

.....This thesis discusses the intelligence analysis of the labor organization movement in rejecting the Omnibus Law law drafted by the Government in order to boost economic growth and be included in the 2020 Priority Prolegnas. Some labor organization movements have turned anarchic and have resulted in losses due to damaged public facilities. The movement of labor organizations in rejecting the Omnibus Law should be detected as early as possible so that it can be handled strategically by the police and the government to minimize the wider impact. Strategic intelligence analysis is an essential tool in the development of law enforcement in modern both for its policies, plans or programs, this is because the important role of strategic intelligence is to support the achievement of objectives strategically and practically. Strategic intelligence analysis is used in this research to obtain various useful analysis results for stakeholders to understand the characteristics of Labor Organizations, so that all prevention and mitigation efforts can touch to the root of the problem. From this research, it was obtained an explanation of the characteristics of Labor Organizations, the pattern of rejection actions and the formulation of the form of handling the rejection of the Omnibus Law among Labor Organizations in the Jabodetabek area.
