.....This study analyzes the impact of uncertainty (World Uncertainty Index-WUI) on corporate investment inefficiency in Indonesia. The data used is 1150 firm-year panel data consisting of the 2014-2024 time series period and 115 cross section companies. The results show a negative impact of uncertainty on the absolute value of investment inefficiency. There is a negative impact of uncertainty on investment inefficiency in overinvestment conditions, and a positive impact of uncertainty on investment inefficiency in underinvestment conditions. Thus, it is concluded that in both abnormal investment scenarios, uncertainty reduces investment inefficiency and optimizes investment decisions.
