Abstrak

This thesis analyses the attempts of Kabupaten Bekasi government in responding and implementation of Act No 23/2004, Government Regulation No. 4/2006 and Ministerial Decree No. 01/VI/2007. This topic is selected because the high numbers of domestic violence survivors in Kabupaten Bekasi, while awareness and concern of the government and personnel on this issues are very low, its cause of the trend towards infrastructure development more priority. This research conducted by involving institutions related to recover program mentioned in the regulations such as Pemda Kabupaten, Dinas Kesehatan, Polres, and Dinas Social and so on. In order to get balance data, survivors were also interviewed. This study is using qualitative method by exploring womens perspective to get deep understanding in the way Kabupaten Bekasi responses and implements national policy to recover domestic violence survivors. This study analyzed at least three main problems: first, the content, structure and operational guidelines of policies related to survivors recovery program for domestic violence (UU No. 23/2004, PP No. 4/2006 and Permen PP No. 01/Permen PP/VI/2007); second, type, motives, how, targets of violence against women in Kabupaten Bekasi includes domestic violence; and third, oversee the responses of Kabupaten towards national policy in providing recovery program for domestic violence survivors. This can be analyzed in how this government making priority for programs and budgets. This research concluded: first 23/2004, Government Regulation No. 4/2006 and Ministerial Decree No. 01/VI/2007, even when the number of violence tends to increase; second, the domestic violence or violence towards women considered is natural that way recovery program isnt priority; and third, Patriarchy is still dominated in government and social system in Kabupaten Bekasi, its showed in paid attention from government and society toward prevention and recovery for domestic violence survivors.
