

Pengembangan rancangan kebijakan pelayanan kedokteran keluarga di Indonesia tahun 2013 = Develop the draft of family medicine policy in Indonesia year of 2013

Ernawati Octavia, author

Deskripsi Lengkap: <https://lib.ui.ac.id/detail?id=20348800&lokasi=lokal>

Abstrak

[ABSTRAK

Pelayanan kedokteran keluarga merupakan bagian pelayanan kesehatan primer, adalah pelayanan kesehatan esensial dan merupakan kontak pertama masyarakat kepada sistem pelayanan kesehatan. Berdasarkan laporan WHO tahun 2007, negara dengan pelayanan kesehatan primer yang kuat memiliki anggaran yang kecil dalam pembiayaan kesehatannya. Pelayanan kedokteran keluarga memandang pasien bukan hanya sebagai individu, melainkan sebagai satu kesatuan dengan keluarga dan komunitasnya, dilakukan dengan cara komprehensif, berkesinambungan, kontinu dan patient centered. Kementerian Kesehatan telah menyusun rancangan kebijakan pelayanan kedokteran keluarga sejak tahun 2010 dan masih berproses hingga saat ini. Mengingat perkembangan ilmu pengetahuan dan teknologi sejak penyusunannya, maka dipandang perlu melakukan pengembangan terhadap rancangan tersebut.

<hr>ABSTRACT

Family medicine is a part of primary health care, which is an essential health care and being first contact to the health care system. According to WHO annual report in year of 2007, a country with a strong primary health care have a small amount for their country health budgetting. Family medicine treat the patient not only just an individual but also as a unity with the family and their community, by doing a comprehensive, sustainable, continuous and patient centered. Ministry of Health of Republic of Indonesia has already design a family medicine policy in year of 2010 and still in process until nowadays. Regarding the developments in science and technology since its formulation, it is necessary to conduct development of the design., Family medicine is a part of primary health care, which is an essential health care and being first contact to the health care system. According to WHO annual report in year of 2007, a country with a strong primary health care have a small amount for their country health budgetting. Family medicine treat the patient not only just an individual but also as a unity with the family and their community, by doing a comprehensive, sustainable, continuous and patient centered. Ministry of Health of Republic of Indonesia has already design a family medicine policy in year of 2010 and still in process until nowadays. Regarding the developments in science and technology since its formulation, it is necessary to conduct development of the design.]