Ebook on ScienceDirect

Just like the evolution of man, there has been an evolution of books over time

ScienceDirect for Books

Since 2007, Elsevier has been adding books to the ScienceDirect platform so that researchers and students can access the highly regarded book content in an electronic environment.

Cumulative number of books published on ScienceDirect

ScienceDirect Books – Content Overview

ScienceDirect Books – eBooks

- What is an eBook?
  - Monograph
  - Text Reference
  - Professional Reference
  - “Closed or Irregularly Published Series”

ScienceDirect Books – Textbooks

- In addition to our eBooks/monographs, Elsevier also publishes high level textbooks.
- These titles are used in the classroom as well as in research, however these textbooks are not intended for the introductory level in universities. The content is geared towards upper level students and graduate level.
- By purchasing at the institutional level, faculty and librarians can offer financial relief to their students
- Textbooks offered in 6 disciplines: Computer Science, Neuroscience, Life Sciences, Chemistry, Engineering and Mathematics

ScienceDirect Books – Book Series & Handbooks

- Publish similarly to journals
- Compliment to primary research: Authoritative reviews & essays as well as current field research
- Lengthy examination of topics, with methodology
- Articles that are useful on their own, from library to lab
- Includes “Advances in...”, “Methods in...”
- Top cited Book Series: Methods in Enzymology

ScienceDirect Books – MRWs

- Ideal starting point: Relied upon by researchers to gain essential cross-disciplinary background/foundation knowledge
- Includes:
  - Encyclopedias
  - Treatises
  - “Comprehensive....”
- Top Cited Major Reference Work on ScienceDirect is International Encyclopedia of Social and Behavioral Sciences

Exploring Literature Needs

I need to stay abreast of current research in order to be able to provide accurate information to my students

I need the tools and content to master important research skills that are valued in the real world.

I need to collaborate with other researchers around the world

I must support and meet the needs of my customers – faculty, students and researchers

I need detailed information that I can use to prepare my lecture notes with more reliable data

Professors

Students

Researchers

Librarians

I need to make sure cost savings and efficiencies are in place for the institution

1. Reading research
2. Keeping up-to-date with your field
3. Searching online scientific literature
4. Obtaining in-depth knowledge on a subject

The researchers' challenge is in these use cases

There are a number of roles that ScienceDirect must fill

Researchers have told us that to feel confident they have the necessary knowledge, they need a tool that will...

Help me discover the relevant information

Keep me informed of the latest developments and news

Give me access to

Searching Tips

- ❑ Not case-sensitive (lowercase or uppercase are same)
- ❑ Singular or plural will search both
- ❑ US English and UK English will search both (Color & Colour, centre and center, etc.)
- ❑ Searching with Phrase (more than 1 word)
  - ❑ Quote “xxxxx” → Fuzzy Search (singular, plural, UK/US, ignore symbol)
  - ❑ Curly bracket {xxxx} → Exact match (100% same)
  - ❑ Example “Heart Attack” and {Heart Attack}

Searching Tips

❑ Wildcard

❑* e.g. Toxi* → Toxid, Toxin, Toxicity etc.

❑? e.g. Toxi? → Toxid and Toxin, not toxicity

❑ Logical operator

❑ OR

Below the search bar, there are tabs for "All", "Journals", "Books", "Reference Works", and "Images". The "All" tab is selected. To the right of these tabs are links for "Advanced search" and "Expert search".

The main search area has a "Search for" section with two input fields and a dropdown menu set to "All Fields". Below this is a dropdown menu set to "AND".

Below the search area is a "Refine your search" section. It contains a list of checkboxes: "Journals" (checked), "Books" (checked), "All" (checked), "My Favorites" (unchecked), "Subscribed publications" (unchecked), and "Open Access articles" (unchecked). Below this is a list of categories: "All Sciences", "Agricultural and Biological Sciences", "Arts and Humanities", and "Biochemistry". The "All Sciences" category is selected. Below the categories is a "Search" button.

On the right side of the page, there is a "Search history" section with a text box containing instructions: "Search for articles from our full-text collection using this search form. Click the Help button for step-by-step instructions on conducting a search using this form. Consult the Search Tips for information about the use of connectors, wildcards, and other search options which can improve the precision of your search."

Four orange callout boxes provide additional instructions:

Abstract

Metabolic syndrome (MetS) is a constellation of conditions including abdominal obesity, insulin resistance, and dyslipidemia. MetS diagnosis is cumbersome and requires multiple blood samples and their molecular contents, as well as DNA. In this study, we advance upon these findings, there is real risk of T2DM, CVD, and cancers, contributing to the burden of disease.

ABSTRACT

An understanding of factors influencing health in socioeconomic groups is required to reduce health inequalities. This study investigated combinations of health determinants associated with self-rated health (SRH), and their relative importance, in income-based groups. Cross-sectional data from year 15 (2000–2001) of the CARDIA study (Coronary Artery Risk Development in Young Adults, USA) - 3648 men and women (mean 40 years) - were split into 5 income-based groups. SRH responses were categorized as 'higher'/'lower'. Health determinants (medical, lifestyle, and social factors, living conditions) associated with SRH in each group were analyzed using classification tree analysis (CTA). Income and SRH were positively associated ( $p < 0.05$ ). Data suggested an income-based gradient for lifestyle/medical/social factors/living conditions. Profiles, and relative importance ranking, of multi-domain health determinants, in relation to SRH, differed by income group. The highest ranking variable for each income group was chronic burden-personal health problem (<$25,000); physical activity ($25–50,000; $50–75,000; $100,000+); and cigarettes/day ($75–100,000). In lower income groups, more risk factors and chronic burden indicators were associated with SRH. Social support, control over life, optimism, and resources for paying for basics/medical care/health insurance were greater (%) with higher income. SRH is a multidimensional measure; CTA is useful for contextualizing risk factors in relation to health status.

On the left side, there is a 'Filter by subject' section with a list of subjects and checkboxes. The 'Social Sciences and Humanities' category is selected, and the 'Statistics, Probability and Un...' sub-category is also selected. An 'Apply' button is located at the bottom of this section.

The main content area displays 'Publications: 3846 titles found'. Below this, there are three dropdown menus: 'All titles', 'All journals', and 'All access types'. A list of journals is shown, including 'AASRI Procedia', 'Academic Pediatrics', 'Academic Radiology', 'ACC Current Journal', 'Accident Analysis & Prevention', 'Accident and Emergency Nursing', 'Accounting Forum', 'Accounting, Management and Information Technologies', and 'Accounting, Organizations and Society'. Each journal entry includes a 'Journal' label and an 'Open Access' or 'Contains Open Access' status.

Two orange callout boxes are overlaid on the image. One box points to the 'Apply' button and contains the text 'Apply to filter the subject'. The other box points to the 'Statistics, Probability and Un...' sub-category and contains the text 'Choose your subject of interest'.

The screenshot shows the ScienceDirect website interface. At the top, there are browser tabs for 'Electronic Holdings Report', 'ScienceDirect.com | ScienceDirect', 'ScienceDirect - Remote Access', 'Journals | Elsevier', and 'WebHelp'. The address bar shows 'www.sciencedirect.com'. Below the address bar, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Physical Sciences and Engineering', 'Life Sciences', 'Health Sciences', and 'Social Sciences and Humanities'. The 'Physical Sciences and Engineering' section is highlighted. On the left, a list of disciplines is shown: Chemical Engineering, Chemistry, Computer Science, Earth and Planetary Sciences, Energy, Engineering, Materials Science, Mathematics, and Physics and Astronomy. The main content area for 'Physical Sciences and Engineering' includes a description: 'From foundational science to new and novel research, discover our large collection of Physical Sciences and Engineering publications covering a range of disciplines, from the theoretical to the applied.' Below this, there are two columns: 'Popular Articles' and 'Recent Publications'. The 'Popular Articles' column lists three articles: 'The fluid budget of a continental plate bound...', 'WITHDRAWN: A Mini Review of Biological Phosphorus Re...', and 'The low-temperature heat capacity of the (Th...'. The 'Recent Publications' column lists two articles: 'Journal of the Taiwan Institute of Chemical Engineers' and 'Journal of Surfactants'. At the bottom right, there is a large orange button labeled 'Choose'. A large orange arrow points from the 'Choose' button towards the 'Physical Sciences and Engineering' section. In the bottom right corner, there is a 'Feedback' button with a speech icon.
